Dear Leopoldo and fellow colleagues,
09/12/2020

In 2013 and 2014, the Commission for Legislative Review, which is responsible for screening and proofreading world legislative submissions (among other tasks) had received assurance that there was to be a legislative bill for pre-natal and post-natal care from world parliament members and others who have expertise in this area. Previous notice was given at the 13th PWP session in Lucknow that there would be such a bill, so the bill was given a number (66).

The pre-natal/postnatal care bill was never submitted. No one on the Commission for Legislative Review has expertise in this subject. So when the PWP met again in 2015 at Kolkata, the legislation was never introduced.

For now, the number is reserved for when a pre-natal/post-natal care bill is submitted and introduced to the Provisional World Parliament or World Parliament.

Best regards,

Genie
